

Friday January 6

DID BARNES & THORNBURG SAVE THE COUNTRY?

New Barnes & Thornburg DC managing partner Karen McGee plans to double the size of the office; Nixon Peabody's Areta Kupchyk on FDA ramping up regs; Children's Law Center's holiday drive

BISNOW*Belated Holiday Cheer

And who can't use some holiday cheer in the post-New Year's blues of January? DC Councilmember Michael Brown is snapped participating in the Children's Law Center Holiday Hope Drive again this year, pausing to chat with executive director Judith Sandalow as Santa's workshop bustles around them. McKenna Long's Trish Hall is at the wrapping station, working on a pile of goodies for disadvantaged and neglected DC children. CLC attorneys and investigators later delivered the gifts to more than 700 kids in time for for the holidays.
